ALVERTAGE TOTAL TOTAL STATE OF THE STATE OF

New York State Military Convention.
MISHBABLE OBGANIZATION OF THE GITTLEN SO DIERY.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE BEHALD. A few gentlemen, in connection with the New York State Militia, have for the past three years associated themselves together under the above suphonious title, for the "transaction of business" for the benefit of the New York State Militia. I would beg to call your attention to a few facts relating to the present organization of the militia, and then it will remain for this military con-vention, par excellence, to say what good their half per Militia, as represented in this convention, has done. The militia laws explicitly state that members of the State militia shall be boso fide citizens, adopted or native. The same laws originally state that twelve regiments should form the First Division of the State, and city and county of New York. The same laws say that the uniform of all new companies organized shall be the regulation dross of the United States troops. The said laws say that no company shall number less than fifty bong fide citizens of the State. In the columns of the HERALD, a few days since the First Division of the city and county of New York militia, under the command of Major General Sandford, was represented to be in num-bers (on paper) some six thousand mea, and that fourfifths of these were foreigners. I would beg to enlighten the citizens of New York upon this important subject. The First division is composed of albout 4,500 active men—of whom 4,000 are composed of albout 4,500 active men—of whom 4,000 are composed of all nations, chiefly natives of Ireland and the German States. Of these porhaps 1,000 are not citizens, nor even declared their intention to become such. Many hundreds cannot spoak English nor anderstand the orders, unless given in their waw vernacular. Very many cannot write their own names. They form the unruly and drunken portion of the millith that may be seen brawling and tumbling through the by streets half or completely intexicated after every parade, if they are not already intoxicated in the ranks while on parade. In violation of the laws as passed in the State Assembly, Senate, and approved of by the Governor, the Commander in Chief (Governor) permitted the Irish regiment to be organized with their green politico-religious anti-American uniforms, and ordered them (although opposed by General Sandford and the Division Board of Officers) to be admitted into the First Division, and a mulitary district assigned to them. This unlawful proceeding and violation of the gubernatorial oath exotied the most intense indignation smoogst the native American, and the consequence was the formation and organization of the vory beautiful regiment of American Rises, commanded by Colonel Voburg. This regiment was getten up upon the pure American ticket, to check mate "foreign influence." I believe its positical character is now modified. So one great wrong on the part of the Governor (commander-in-chief) produced a second still greater wrong. Here were two regiments of highly excited and exasperated men, by the Governor—the Commander-in-Chief at that—putted against each other in the same line, in the same ranks and under the same commander. Had a catastrophe followed, the unfortunate "foreigner" would have received all the indignation, the punishment and unjust affering, whilst the Commander-in Chief at the putter of the publication of the regiment of his other w foreign votes and "foreign influence" helps their personal selfish ends.

No person can tell, in these piping times of war, humbug and diplomacy, what a day may bring forth; therefore, would it not be as well to attend to the proper reorganization of our militia, the fulfillment of the laws,
&c.? Would it not be as well to consolidate the infantry companies into infantry pregiments, and the infantry regiments into infantry brigades; file companies into influence into a interpretation of the laws, &c. and the infantry companies into influence in the companies into influence in the brigade; cavalry companies ditto into a cavalry brigade; artillery ditto intoartillery brigade?

[Thus organized according to the true arm of defence,

'n artillery brigade' according to the true arm of defence, the brigades of militia might by this mede be licked into shape and a possibility to discipline them for active military purposes. As the organization is now, in the eyes of military men who viat our country it must place beneath contempt our military conceptions and abilities of boasted military superiority. These are important considerations for our citizens.

Now, the Military Convention which meets for the "transaction of business," is not a convention of the militis, but merely an amendation *transaction of business," is not a convention of the militis, but merely an association of gentlemen of the militis, few and far between. This association has made two annual excursions, with speeches, &c., but it has done nothing. The militis is in no way represented so as to dignify the association with the title of convention.

so as to dignify the association with the title of convention.

I would suggest to these gentlemen their individual attention to the organization and proper arming and equipping of their commands in a military manner, before they attempt to alter and potter with the laws are good enough (very bad as they are) as they stand, if they were only acted up to.

In such a miserable state of organization, discipline, drill, &c., is the First division, that in case of a tumult and a real bona fide fight—not a nigger riot or an Astor Place Opera House riot, wherein the military had it all their own way—but a fight, for example, excited by politico-religious feedings, as was likely to have occurred some time back—under such circumstances, the discipline, the comic arming, and the still more comic "fandling" of the men would renier them more dangerous to themselves than they would be to their opponents. As some of the officers of the State Military Convention seem so eager to improve the character of the State militia, would it not be as well for them to reorganize their own commands, deucate them by a series of drills, and bring them before the public and the convention as a proof of practical attention and utility, in place of nanual meetings to hear each other speak over a jolly good dinner, and hear a simple address of words? FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

MONNY MARKET.

MONDAY, Jan. 8-6 P. M. The stock market opened this morning with a strong upward tendency, and continued quite buoyant to the close. The leading railroad stocks were in demand, and a very large amount of business was transacted. The movement in Eric was decided, and most of the sales were for cash. At the first board Erie Income Bonds advanced 1 per cent; Illinois Central Bonds, §; New York Central Bonds, ‡; Canton Company, 1; Nicaragus Transit, 1; Cumberland Coal, 4; New York Central Railroad, 4; Hudson Railroad, 4; Erie Railroad, 12; Harlem, 2; Reading Railread, 1; Galens and Chicago Railroad, 1. The advance in Eric Income Bonds is the most extraor-dinary movement of the day. The lean of four million of dollars required for the liquidation of the income bonds and other indebtedness of the by the appointed time-the 10th inst.-the Board of Direc ors will have to step in and take a large amount for future disposal. They will be forced to do this to carry out their plans. There was to-day a very great deficiency, and it will be nard work to make up the required figures. We are, however, prepared to see an announcement on the 10th, that the loan has been taken at eighty per cent. That is already determined upon, for it would be fatal to report other wise. The board of management of the Erie Railroad Company have made incorrect representations in regard to the operation of this loan, which will appear after the negotiations are closed. They made these statements, knowing them to be incorrect at the time. They call it now merely a mistake, but we call it something else. We have another name for such mistakes. The company cann:t extricate themselves from all their financial embarrasements by this loan, and this was as well known to the directors when their statement was put forth as it is now. They acknowledge now that there will be a large floating debt unprovided for, and it will require the sharpest kind of fican ciering on the 1st of March to prevent the company falling into the same difficulty which in September last threatened its dissolution. The 10th inst. is so near at hand that we shall quiet y await the issue of the affair. Bids for the loan will be opened on that day, when we shall have official statements for data in making our estimates of future in sebtedness and payments. The loan will be taken at about eighty per cent. That will be the maximum. The stock market is an enigma just now. We hardly know what to make of tols rapid rise in the fancy railroad stocks. Most of the buyers in the street are weak men, who will make a small profit when they can, and slip out. There are ne outside operators visible, and we de not hear of any stock going cut of the brokers' hands. The load is con-fined to the same class of speculators, and will become greater as prices enhance, when it will require greater amount of money to carry fancy stocks than at present.

In Wall street money is easy on call, and the banks are anxious to put out such loans, but outside of Wall street there is as much pressure as at any previous period during the past year. The banks are afraid to extend their loans by discounting business paper having a fixed time to run, and therefore are compelled to depend upon the brokers to find use for their means, to enable them to eke out even decent dividends. Borrowing money on cell, for the purpose of purchasing fancy stocks, is rather dangerous business in these times; but spe-culators are used to great risks, and take them without much forethought. The fa t of the banks avoiding business paper, and loaning money on call, is pretty good evidence that they have not much confidence in the future, and wish to be prepared for any contingency. When the banks are thus cau-tious, it should be a warning to individuals. After the adjournment of the boars, the following of Messrs. Howard, Leith & Co. of that place, says: of Messra. Howard, Leith & Co. of that place, says:

What course of events has brought about the failure or suspension of this banking house, we are not well advised, though we have heard that it arises from the shortcomings of one of the members of the firm, or of the firm of Smith, Dwight & Co., in connection with lumbering operations in Ohio—the two firms being, as we understand, one concern. We have been informed, through another source, that such provision has been already made as will save depositors from loss.

Messra Howard, Smith & Co., o wased the Government stock Bank at Lafayotte, Indiana. This suspension will affect the value of its errelation, which amounts, however, to only about twenty thousand dollars. The stocks pledged for the ultimate redemption of this eirculation are not sufficient, at the present market rates, to take it all up—not more, probably, than two-thirds or three quarters of it. The bills were purchased by some of the brokers yesterday at seventy are cents on the dollar.

tinue long enough to remove the ice in the Dela-ware, we shall look for a considerably increased trade, which may tend to check any farther ad-vance of prices. The Miner's Journal gives the actual increase of the coal during the year 1854, from the anthracite coal regions, in round numbers, at 628,000 tons, and from the semi-bituminous regions at about 35,000, making an aggregate in-crease of 663,000 tons. This statement does not, of course, include the Cumberland bituminous coal

The stock of the Cumberland and Pennsylvania Railroad Company has been placed upon the books of the Board of Brokers. This was formerly known as the Mount Savage Railroad, and was placed under the existing charter on the 1st of January, 1854. It extends from Frostburg, the centre of tue famous Cumberland coal region, to Cumberland, where it has two termini—one connecting with the Chesapeake and Ohio canal, and the other with the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. Including side tracks, it is eighteen and a half miles in length. The capi. tal of the company is $1,000,000, and upon this amount it is believed as certain to return a hand-some profit as any read in the United States. Its business is almost entirely confined to the trans portation of coal from the mines to Cumberland; and for this business its grades are peculiarly fa-vorable. From Frostburg to Cumberland the descent is about 1,100 feet, so that little locomotive power is needed, except to return empty cars to the mines. Its business in coal transportation has steadily increased from 75,000 tons in 1850, to 234, 000 tons in 1853, and 210,000 tons in the last three quarters of 1854-the first three months having been rendered unproductive by a miners' strike The large tracts of the fourteen feet vein owned by Messrs. Aspinwall, Cunard and others, in the valley of George's Creek, beyond Frostburg, are about to be opened, and as soon as this shall be done it is said a connection will be formed with this road so as to bring down to Camberland a very large propertion of the coal mined in that valley. This will at least double the present business of the road, and may be expected gradually to increase in amount for many years to come. The capital stock is paid up in full, and the company has no indebt-duess of any kind. The officers are John A. Graham, Mount Savage, Md., President; Warren Delano, Jr., and J. B. Varnum, New York; John F. Winslow, Troy; John M. Forbes, Boston; C. H. Ogden, Register of Transfer Office, 35 Burling alip, New York.

This shows an increase in discounts of $591,069in specie, of $1,520,816—in deposits, of $2,154,138, and a decrease in circulation of $25,898. Had the returns of the Empire City Bank been made, there would have been an increase of more than a mil-lion of do lars shown in the line of discounts. The increase in specie has been very large-much larger than antic pated. The returns for the first week in January, this year and last, compare as follows:-

Loons. Specie. Circul'n. Deposits. Jan. 7, 1854, 860, 110, 887, 11, 506, 124, 9, 075, 129, 69, 815, 392 Jan. 7, 1855, 82, 244, 706, 13, 596, 963, 7, 049, 982, 64, 982, 158

The loans are now $7,889,188 and the circulation $2,025,147 less, while the specie on hand is $2 000, 839 and the deposits $4,146,796 greater than at the same time last year. This shows a great change for the better. A large amount of specie was loaged lest week to our banks of issue, by the savings banks of the city, which accounts for a portion of the accumulation. The savings banks have lately sold to the government of the United States a very large amount of i's debt, and received from the subtressury here gold in payment, a great portion of which has been loaned to the Wall street banks at a low rate of interest The effect of this is favorable, on it tends to the restoration of public confider of the whole, the bank returns for the week are bighly satisfactory. We shall soon have another California steamer along, with a million and a half
